DISASTERS can occur at anytime, anywhere, and affect anyone. Our local communities are no exception. The American Red Cross is dedicated to alleviating suffering caused by these disasters wherever it may be found. To support this mission, the Greater Phoenix Chapter is seeking compassionate interns to assist in the three pillars of Disaster Management: Prepare, Respond, Recover.

- Red Cross interns are involved in projects critical to the day-to-day work of our non-profit organization's mission delivery.
- Our formal internship program runs for a specified 12-week duration. Alternative durations may be accommodated at the discretion of the business unit.
- Start and end dates are flexible and based on the student availability, and the school schedule.
- Through the Red Cross, interns can expect to receive free training, including orientation, in the three pillars of Disaster Management to be ready to take on roles in Preparedness, Response and Recovery, in addition to gaining practical and professional skills.
- Interns will assist in Disaster Case Management, have the chance to accompany a Disaster Response Event, and choose from a selection of activities that help promote Community Resilience for future disasters or emergencies.
- This is an excellent opportunity for professional growth while making a difference in our community.
